NO. 48

L. & N. Railroad Indicted.

The Powell Circuit Court returned an indictment Saturday against the L. & N. Railroad for operating over the lines of the L. & E. without having recorded in the County Clerk's office its lease or contract with the L. & E. whereby it so operates. This is a specific mandate of the law. As it now is no one knows with whom they are dealing. The L. & N. forms are used altogether, but when a contract is made bearing upon the right-of-way of the road, it is with the L. & E. The answer to this indictment will probably give the public some information which they have been wanting to know for some time.

The road is subject to indictment in every county through which it operates over the L. & E., if it is not recorded. It is a known fact that no contract is recorded in Clark county. The grand jury of that county is most apt to indict the L. & N. when Circuit Court meets there next week.

Dies on Mid-Ocean.

Mrs. Ernest Reed, of Cynthia, died on board a ship between New York and Weybridge, England. She had been in declining health for some time and it was thought the voyage would help her.

Her husband, Mr. Ernest Reed, is a native of this county, being a son of Joel F. Reed who moved with his family to Harrison county a number of years ago. He is also a nephew of C. Shimfessel, of this city.

A Productive(?) Yield.

The Campton Courier reports that one of Wolfe county's farmers had gathered all of his corn and brought it in at one time in a half bushel basket. At first it would seem that the old saying, "a short horse is soon curried" would apply, but not in this case for the field is reported to contain 10 acres, and it looks to us that it would be quite a task to rummage through a ten acre field to get one-half bushel of corn.

That sterling institution, the Powell County Deposit Bank, has one of their splendid statements in this issue of the Times. This bank has the full confidence of its patrons, and stands solidly at all times ready to supply every reasonable accommodation their business may require.

Don't forget the Special Sale now going on at Mrs. Williams's.

Judge Loving is in Louisville this week.

NOTICE.

I have visited each Magisterial District in the County according to law and after having done this, all who have not paid their taxes are required to come to my office and settle on or before the first day of December. After that date a penalty of 6% and 6% interest will be added, and we will at once proceed to collect these taxes as the law directs by levying, garnisheeing and etc. T. C. Hall, Sheriff.

New Road Sustained.

The Times is proud to know that the State Engineer has sustained the route viewed by the Editor of this paper, together with Drs. A. T. Knox and J. W. Johnson. He is reported to have said that no Civil Engineer could have located a better grade between this city and Stanton. The Times was the first to suggest this route, and it has been ten years ago since we first mentioned it. It has been quite awhile to hammer for four miles of good road, but we are glad to see the improvement come 'round at even this late date and feel that it is worth the effort.

The Times is also proud to have taken the initiative in the good roads project as in the bridge building of the county. We have never spent a dollar of money in this direction that we regret, and are proud that we have so far declined to accept a cent of pay for the services so rendered. We are willing to take the lead in expense and the rear of dictation in any good roads project that can be named.

We are thinking of starting a permanent "Good Roads Fund" as the revenue of the county is positively too small to raise sufficient funds to improve even a very short piece of road. Drop in and tell us what you think of it.

Orphans' Home Yard Burned Over.

Sparks from a passing locomotive set fire to the Orphans' Home yard Monday afternoon and burned off several acres. Other fires of a like nature have occurred in the county since the grass has been killed by the frost and dried. Where pastures are burned over this early it kills the Japan clover seed, so there will be no crop of this valuable grass on land now burned over. After a number of freezes and the seed get down into the ground fires do not interfere with the seed germination. It would cost $3.00 or $4.00 per acre to reseed this land to Japan clover as nature left it before the fire.

Democrats Justly Wins.

The contest cases in both Estill and Breathitt counties have been decided in favor of the Democrats. In each case it was an effort of the Republicans to keep the vote of Democratic precincts from being counted, the object of which mainly seemed to be to elect Adams over Judge Riddell. The trick has failed and Riddell wins. The decisions will put Democrats into office in each county as elected. The Republicans have appealed in both cases.

After making the announcement that it had quit, the Irvine Sun has decided to still blossom after the election. The Sun is a welcome visitor to our exchange table, and we hope that it will pick up enough business aside from the supply table of our dear friend, the Tribune, to subsist in a handsome style.

First Report.

The first report of the Department of Roads, now being prepared by Commissioner of Roads R. C. Terrell, who organized the department in July, 1912, gives the number of miles of road in Kentucky at 58,000, of which only 10,636.5 miles are improved, besides which there are 300 miles of toll roads remaining. The number of acres included in the highways is 220,000, valued at $50,000,000, based on the estimated cost of reproduction. The counties raised by local taxation $1,933,000 for road work in 1912, most of which was used in repair and maintenance of roads and bridges, only about 20 per cent of the fund being spent on new roads. New roads and bridges in 1912 cost $200,000 and $220,000, respectively. The counties had employed on the roads during that period 185,000 free laborers.

In connection with the new order under the act, creating the State Department of Roads, Commissioner Terrell examined 252 applicants for County Roads Engineers, of whom 173 passed the examinations.

Commissioner Terrell in his report shows among the activities of the Department that 70 bridge surveys were made, 56 bridges inspected, plans, estimates and specifications were furnished for 61 miles of roadway, and 374 miles were inspected, besides inspections of gravel, asphalt, conferences with county officials and other work of co-operation in local road work.

Commissioner Terrell probably will recommend that, as a matter of economy, Fiscal Courts provide the County Road Engineers with cheap automobiles, so that they can get around to inspect the roads in all sections and supervise work in progress.

Proof for Our Contentions.

The Times has all along maintained that the assessment of Powell county property was nearer its real value than that of many of our Bluegrass neighbors, and the L. & N. railroad in its hearing before the assessment Board has brought out the proof of our contention. One of them is Clark county. The road files an affidavit from the Clark county Clerk in which he swears that the property valuation of that county will not exceed 60% of its real cash value. Still Clark is rarely ever raised by the State Board of Equalization, while Powell is always raised from 10% to 20%. This is not fair, but we have a poor way of helping ourselves.

The strawberry growers of Warren county this year sold 160 car loads of strawberries, receiving $116,292.00 for the same. The sales are made on the co-operative plan, and the profit in growing them is enormous. Powell county farmers could do this and more too if they would, but they will not.

Sil Larrison had a turkey shooting near the city Tuesday, and many secured a cheap Thanksgiving turkey while others paid dearly and got no turkey at all.

Girls' Canning Clubs.

One Kentucky girl canned 1,000 quarts of tomatoes raised by her on one-tenth of an acre, besides supplying her family with all the tomatoes needed for domestic use. She realized from her venture approximately $75. Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman says she undoubtedly is the State Champion.

The Departments of Agriculture of the United States and Kentucky will push the canning club work in ten counties next year, giving $100 to the county on condition that it raise an equal amount for the employment of a woman to organize the clubs and supervise the work. The work will be pushed most in the mountains where blackberries grow wild and in abundance. Rockcastle is the first county to accept, having already raised the necessary $100. A market for all the canned goods put up by the girl club members is already assured, as the quality and full measure are guaranteed by the strict oversight kept of the operations.

This is an excellent opportunity for Powell county girls. Will they accept the generous offer made by the State.

The Grand Jury's Report.

The report of the grand jury Saturday disclosed the fact that about twenty-five or thirty witnesses summoned to appear before it did not appear. The report did not attempt to fix the blame. It seems to us that something is wrong, though we do not profess to know where the wrong was. Neither do we know who the witnesses were that did not appear, nor do we know that they were summoned, but we did hear the report read in open court and it said "there were a number of witnesses summoned that did not appear". It should not be thus, and the next grand jury should see that the work not performed by the retiring jury for lack of witnesses, is taken up and completed in March.

The warm weather has demoralized the turkey market. It was too warm at the necessary time to slaughter and ship east without the aid of refrigerator cars. These conditions necessarily cut short the demand. This leaves more turkeys over for the Christmas market which is apt to force prices down.

Cattle at the Winchester court market Monday sold briskly at good prices. The mule market was also some better. R. W. Garrett, of this city, bought a choice 3-year-old mule there for $175.

Mrs. Sarah J. Wilson, aged seventy-six years, died near Jeffersonville, Nov. 20th. Burial Saturday. Mrs. Wilson was a grandmother of Mrs. E. B. McGlone, of this city.

Elder J. T. Turpin has been called for one-half time to the pastorate of Allensville church, Clark county, while his other half time is taken with a church in Madison county.

E. R. W. Cox has been quite sick since Monday.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION.

For a number of years the destruction and threats of destruction from the San Jose scale have hung over the fruit growing nursery business of this country, discouraging and thwarting, increasing expense and reducing profits until the very name of San Jose scale has become a sort of nightmare to the men who produce fruit for the market. In spite of all that has been done to prevent, this scale has spread steadily, and has now completely occupied about all of the best fruit growing territory of the United States. Fruit growers have never had to deal with a pest so difficult to suppress and so generally and constantly destructive to all deciduous tree fruits since fruit growing became a business in America.

A beam of light is thrown on this somewhat gloomy situation by the appearance recently of small insect parasites that bid fair to check the injuries of San Jose scale and to render the work of keeping orchards and nurseries in good condition much less difficult. These parasites have been reared during the past summer in numbers in the Division of Entomology and Botany of the Kentucky Experiment Station at Lexington. This new friend is a mere yellow speck, hardly recognizable as an insect except by its movements, yet is a highly organized, four-winged fly, belonging to the same group of insects as the honey bee. Its young, a small white grub, lives within the bodies of the scale insect, and numbers of the scales from trees about Lexington, Barbourville, Pineville, and elsewhere in Eastern Kentucky, may be seen to have a round hole in the back through which the mature parasite has emerged. Trees recently thickly covered with scale and apparently doomed, have shown a decided relief from the injury this season as a result of the beneficent work of these small flies.

At the request of the Illinois State Entomologist a package of the parasites has just been sent to that State with a view to establishing the parasite there. Eventually it is hoped it can be made to occupy all of the region invaded by the scale.

Several other enemies of the scale are under observation at the Station, one of them, the grub of a small black lady beetle, having done on some trees as good work in reducing the scale as its minute associate. An effort will be made later to distribute these insects to sections of the State where they are not now present.

In its case before the Assessment Board, the L. & N. claims that it should not be assessed at more than 60 per cent. of its value, as farm lands are not assessed at an amount in excess of this. The claims of the road are virtually true so far as the rich Bluegrass counties and the wealthy mineral counties are concerned, but it is not true in this county, Estill, and many other counties. Still if the railroads of the State are assessed on a basis of their earning power, recognizing their money invested worth 6 per cent., their assessment will be doubled.

Take the L. & E. and L. & N. merger as an example. The net earnings of this road, according to the road's own figures, are $2,084 per mile. This represents legal interest on $34,000 per mile, and 60 per cent. of this is more than $20,000 per mile, yet it is assessed at less than $7,000 per mile, or about 20 per cent. Is this fair? We think not, and it is a shame that we have to stand for such an unequal and impartial taxation.

Some time in 1910 there was a Curfew law passed, but fo

some reason or other it has not been very rigidly enforced of late. The city authorities have recently been convinced that it should be. Notices have therefore been posted that all boys under eighteen years old must comply with the law and remain at home after 7:30 or be dealt with by the law. This is a good move we hope to strictly enforced.

The Richmond Climax has gone back into the hands of A. D. Miller, an old Estill boy. The retiring editor thought it too big a job, getting out the fourth paper in a one paper town, but Ancil Miller will show how it can be easily done. Grant E. Lilly, an other old Estill comrade, is making a decided success with the Madisonian at Richmond. If a paper can be published at all, it can be carried through by a native Estill-ite. We will cite as proof, in addition to the Madisonian and Climax, of Richmond, the Estill Tribune and Clay City Times.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Special Invitation to Every Farmer Man in Powell County,

By Hon. R. L. Barnett, of Paducah, Ky.

SUBJECT: "Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union."

PLACE: Christian Church, Hardwick's Creek.

TIME: Wednesday night, December 3rd.

PLACE: Court House at Stanton.

TIME: Thursday at 10 A. M., December 4th.

Mr. Barnett is a splendid speaker and we are very fortunate in having him with us. He understands the needs of the farmer as few men do. Please remember the appointments, for you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

Yellow Transparent Apples.

We had to pick five or six times last year in order to get the fruit in prime condition. We used the five-eights basket, but are going to try the box this year also. There is more money in the Williams early red, although the yellow transparent is certainly good. People demand a red apple, and we try not to give the dealer a red apple until the yellow is done, so do not ship both apples to the same dealer. All early varieties must be handled with great care, says a writer in an exchange. We expressed our early apples because we had not enough for a car on account of uneven ripening. We find summer apples more profitable than winter varieties. I do not advise planting an orchard without some early varieties. We can sell early apples anywhere. We shipped most of ours to New York, but Baltimore is all right on early fruit.

Protect Against Rabbits and Mice.

These animals may be kept from injuring the trunks of trees by boxing, or by placing a piece of galvanized wire screen around the tree trunk and covering it to the height of about 20 inches. This will also prevent sunscald; and it costs much less than to replace the trees after the rabbits have injured them. The snow should be well tramped about young apple trees to prevent mice from injuring the bark under the snow-crust.

AN APPEAL TO LEGISLATORS.

Are you a member of the coming Legislature? Are you going to prove that you represent the women of Kentucky as well as the men by agreeing to allow them to submit their case to the voters? That is all they ask of you. They are presenting a bill asking for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people, which will admit them to the suffrage on equal terms with men. You do not have to believe in woman suffrage to vote for this bill. All you have to believe in is in giving the women a fair chance to get to the court of last resort. A vote for the bill is not a vote for woman suffrage; it is simply a vote to let the question be submitted to the men of Kentucky. Not to the people of Kentucky; the women may never vote a single vote in their own favor; all they can do is to educate, to persuade and to wait.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

PROBABLY YOU HAVE—AND MORE THAN THAT.
In looking back over our day's work we like to feel that we have accomplished something, be it the digging of post holes or the useful exertion of our energy in some other direction.

Your day's "showing" lies not in the amount of work, but in the amount of holes.

With the Blue Grass you can with the same amount of labor accomplish far greater results—dig more holes—because it has the stiffest blade and cuts the deepest hole with the least expansion of handles—and least exertion.

The handles are hickory, the frame malleable iron, the blades OCTAGON shaped FORGED steel.

The Blue Grass has so many good points over any other Post Hole Digger, that we'd really want you to try it. There's always a little plot of ground around our premises available for the purpose.

Highland College in Breathitt county, where she is matron of the dormitory. The college has been closed down for several weeks on account of the small pox. She visited at the home of her brother, Wm. Hardwick, before returning in this age we do.

The students at the college gave their literary program last Friday night at the college building. It was the first time that we had been there this year and were wonderfully surprised at the talent shown and the productions given. The German play given by Gladys Welch, Jouett Boone and Marion Atkinson was splendid. The conversation was all in German, and while most of us could not understand a word of it, yet we caught from the actions and gestulation that it was a courting scene. We did not know whether both of the young men were proposing to the same girl or the girl proposing to both of the young men. Anyhow all ended serene and all seemed happy in the way it ended. As there was only one girl in the class Gladys took the part of another character and thus Jouett was not given the mitten after all. The music part of the program by Beatrice Blunt, Maxie Johnson and Lucile Todd was hard to beat anywhere. It would be a great encouragement to our young people if more of the citizens of the town took in these literary exercises.

You would feel richly repaid for going and would be delightfully entertained. The exercises are open to the public and are held every other Friday night.

At this Thanksgiving season of the year we ought to be thankful for all the bounties that we have received this past year. It is true that we had a drought, but there is plenty for us till the coming harvest. Newell Dwight Hillis, the great preacher of Plymouth Church, New York, says why we should be thankful for the age we live in, in an article he has written. "Modern tools have ushered in a new earth. Already machinery lends the average family the labour of sixty slaves. God would seem to have ordained tools to emancipate man from drudgery for higher service and spiritual life. We have the cotton gin, the printing press, the railroads uniting distant cities, the steamship uniting distant nations, the telegraph uniting commercial cities, the cable uniting distant continents, the telephone uniting friends widely separated, the phonograph lending immortality to the voice. To these must be added the reaper standing for a thousand and one new tools and lessening the labor for the farmer, the sewing machine, standing for a thousand and one new tools and lessening the leisure and power to women; man touched the forked stick and it became the steel plow, the sickle and it became a reaper, the old wagon into an iron engine, the hollow log into a mighty ocean vessel, the iron thread into an ocean cable. There has been a wonderful advancement in medicine and science. In former eras, when a man lost his arm the bleeding stump was plunged into hot pitch to stay the hemorrhage. Now many amputations are performed without the loss of a single drop of blood. The knife that was so dreaded has changed with the use of anesthetics. The sleeper falls into a dreamless sleep as free from pain as a block of marble. A century ago whole villages and cities were swept away by a plague and infectious fevers. Today the discovery of the germ theory and the principle of sanitation the very names of the plagues are almost forgotten. Organic troubles that were certain death now yield readily to the skill of the surgeon. There has been no greater triumph than that of modern surgery. So let us be thankful that we live in this age we do.

It is said that "Consistency thou art a jewel" but is more than we can say for "Incompetency." There is no question but what incompetency is one of the greatest stumbling blocks that the American nation has to grapple with to day. It creeps into the pulpit. The voters will vote men into the judiciary who actually do not know a statute from Davy Crockett's almanac nor a code from Hawkin's confession. Yet they set in judgment, and the construction that they place on a paragraph of law would make an elephant as big as "Jumbo" look like a spotted polecat.

The Youth's Companion in 1914.

Seven college presidents and a number of college instructors, including ex President Taft, will contribute to The Youth's Companion during 1914.

Then there is Gene Stratton Porter, whose stories of Indian woods and swamps have made her famous, and Kate Douglas Wiggin, who never wrote a dull line in her life, and Mrs. Burton Harrison, who remembers when conversation was really an art as practised in Washington and in the manor houses of Virginia. And this is just a beginning of the list.

If you know The Companion, you have a pretty clear idea of what is in store for the next year's readers. If you do not know, ask us to send you sample copies—for instance, those containing the opening chapters of Arthur St. Wood Pier's fine serial—"His Father's Son." Full announcement for 1914 will be sent with the sample copies.

For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included The Companion Practical Home Calendar for 1914, and all the issues of the paper for the remaining weeks of 1913, dating from the time the subscription is received.

STAND UP AND BE COUNTED RIGHT NOW

If You Believe In Suffrage, Join a Woman Suffrage League—Women Learning Co-operation and Organization From Men.

(Special)—It is commonly said that a very small number of women want the suffrage; that a very small number either of women or men believe in equal rights. This is much less true than it seems: it is simply that the majority of those who believe give no "outward visible sign" of the fact. To remedy this the local branches of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association are now organizing on what is known as the "non-dues-paying basis." Every man or woman who believes in equal rights is asked to sign a card that reads, "I believe in the right of suffrage for women and I hereby enroll myself as a member of the Fayette County Equal Rights Association"—or "The Rowan County Woman Suffrage League," or whatever the name of the local organization may be. There are no penalties attached; one does not commit himself to anything but a belief in the principle on which our nation was founded; that taxation without representation is tyranny. If you believe in this principle, and have not signed a suffrage card, get one and sign it. It is a small thing to do for the cause of justice, but it is valuable.

If no league exists in your county, write to Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, president of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, at state headquarters, 726 McClelland building, Lexington, Ky. She will supply you with a car for yourself and a bunch of cards to get your neighbors to sign.

Basis of Political Parties.

The "non-dues-paying" basis is the basis of all political parties. Merely professed and attested belief in the principles of the Republican party or the Democratic party makes one a Republican or a Democrat. When the sinews of war are needed, the leaders rely on voluntary contributions to the campaign fund. Men have developed organization much further than wom-

Dr. A. T. Knox gave the Sunday school of the Christian church a fine talk from a short Sunday.

Rev. L. F. Mann filled the pulpit Sunday and night at the Methodist church. His text Sunday night was about the ten lepers cleansed. This Brother is an able speaker and will be back on 4th Sunday to fill his regular appointment and it will pay anyone to come out to hear his noble sermons. Let us try to pick out of the life of men the beauty of all good things, for it is pleasing to the eyes of the people.

en; they know a great deal more about co-operation. Their primal duties to the tribe of fighting and hunting and the later developments of industry and business have necessitated co-operation and organization. Women's duties, each within her own particular home, have tended to isolation, to individualism, have been anti-social. But it is finally seen that the home is part of the state; that their separation means dire results to both: the demands of modern industry have pushed millions of women out of the home and into the working world. Women have come to see that for their own protection and for the betterment of the race they must become social, not anti-social, beings. And they have set out to learn the tricks that men know of co-operation and of organization. Their Federation of Women's Clubs, with its hundred thousand members, is one of the signs that they are "catching on."

Woman Suffrage Party.

Many of the new leagues for women suffrage are calling themselves "woman suffrage party." They are not only organizing on the basis of the political party, but they are taking the name "party." They say it makes the men realize better that they are a force to be reckoned with in practical politics—that they have come to stay! Becoming a member means neither dues nor pledges; it means merely a bona-fide personal signature to a declaration of belief in woman suffrage. The organizations then rely for their support on the free-will offerings of those who are ready to make some sacrifice for freedom and the principle of justice.

A Woman Suffrage League In Every County.

It is the purpose of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association to see that there is a woman suffrage league, whatever name may be chosen, in every county in Kentucky before the year 1913 closes. Good beginnings have been made this summer in some twenty-five counties. If you have not joined a league, send in your name. Enroll under the banner of the new woman suffrage party. Stand for the cause of right while the cause needs you! Don't wait until the battle is won and then try to get in on the band wagon.

THE TIMES.

A HOME-MADE PAPER.

THURSDAY, November 27, 1913.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

J. H. O'Rear was in Frankfort Friday.

Mrs. Myrtle Burgher and sister, Miss Betsy Johnson, visited relatives at Kiddville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. King, of Kansas City, Mo., are here on a visit to Mrs. King's brother, W. F. Barnett near the city.

Michael Cone, an L. & E. flagman at Winchester, was killed there Friday while on duty. He was hit by a train and his body cut in two.

E. Q. and W. T. McGlone, of Morehead, stopped over Saturday night with their brother, E. B. McGlone. They were on their way to the L. & E. extension.

Dr. Martin reports the birth of a daughter last week to G. B. Leech. He also reports the birth of a girl to J. F. Ware, of Vaughn's Mill, Monday, November 24th.

The beautiful weather has afforded farmers a splendid opportunity to gather their corn and many of them have hauled in their last load and are now ready for other winter work, and some have killed their hogs.

Christmas Coming.
Four weeks from today will be Christmas day. Our advice is do your shopping early, if you have the money, but if on a credit, the merchant's advice is, do your shopping late, hoping that he will have cash buyers to take all of his stock before you call.

Cow for Sale.
Red polled heifer cow two years old now fresh. Apply at this office.

A valuable cow belonging to E. R. W. Cox was hit by a train in this city Monday afternoon, and two legs broken. She was then killed and buried. It was a pity to have so disposed of so valuable a brute, as the cow was dry, and fat enough for beef.

Cholera has made devastating raids on the hogs of the Mill Creek section of Estill county, according to the report of the Tribune. It has always been said that cholera is most apt to follow an abundant crop of acorns, and the acorns have been abundant this year. So far we have heard of no cholera in this country.

Spring-like Weather.

All of last week was very Spring-like. Thursday was particularly so, and to add still to the Spring-like appearances, there was considerable moving about the Times office. Dr. Martin moved to his new residence about completed, while on the other side A. P. Johnson moved into the house vacated by Dr. Martin, and J. J. Curry also moved to an adjoining building of the Times. Just across the street J. B. Eaton was putting out a large onion field. The combination of these circumstances made it hard for us to realize that Spring really was not here.

Women Who get Dizv.

Every woman who is troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney troubles should use Electric Bitters. They give relief when nothing else will, improve the health, adding strength and vigor from the first dose. Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., says: "Four doctors had given me up and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good." Just try them. 50c. and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis — Adv.

Wm. Morton, of Bowen, was in the city Monday.

The recent tide brought no logs to Brodhead-Garrett's big saw mill as might have been expected. Another lumber company up the river has the river filled in and a railroad track laid over it to get logs to their mill during the dry season. It will therefore take a much larger tide than the last one to get Garrett's logs over the fill.

A Gentle and Effective Laxative.

A mild, gentle and effective laxative is what people demand when suffering from constipation. Thousands swear by Dr. King's New Life Pills. Hugh Tallman, of San Antonio, Tex., writes: "They are, beyond question, the best pills my wife and I have ever taken." They never cause pain. Price 25c. at druggists, or by mail H. E. Bucklen & Co. Philadelphia or St. Louis — Adv.

Mountz-Miller.

Mr. Gus Mountz, of Hardwick's Creek, and Cattie Miller, of Stanton, were married Thursday, Nov. 13, at Hardwick's Creek, Squire Wm. Davis, officiating. After the ceremony the couple repaired to the hospitable home of Richard Puckett, where they were treated to a delightful repast.

The Family Cough Medicine.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Price, 50c. and $1.00. All druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis — Adv.

SCHOOL BALLOT

HAS THE BALLOT FOR WOMEN HELPED THE SCHOOLS OF KENTUCKY?

Non-Partisan School Boards Elected—$100,000 Bond Issue Carried—Right to Vote Assured Only Few Weeks Before Election.

(Special).—Five more women were elected county school superintendents in Kentucky at the November election than ever before. It is a safe assumption that a woman is not going to be elected over a man to a well-paid office, unless the voters are pretty sure that she is decidedly better fitted to fill the office than he is. This, then, is in the interest of a higher standard of efficiency for our schools.

Louisville's School Bond Issue.

In the city of Louisville a hundred thousand dollar bond issue for new school buildings was passed. It would not have been passed without the votes of women and the work of hundreds of women who perfected an organization, carried on a house to house canvas, and worked at the polls throughout the day, reminding voters to vote for the bond issue. This is in the interest of better school buildings and equipment for our children.

Women's Right Disputed.

The opinion of the Attorney General that women could vote for school bond issues was only given a few weeks before the election. He had been exceedingly doubtful about it before. The decision of the Court of Appeals that women could vote in the county superintendent's race and in fact in every school election in which the law of 1912 attempted to give them the right to vote, thus setting bond issue elections as well as others, was only handed down a few weeks before election, in fact, after registration had taken place in the cities. The Attorney General and the Superintendent of Public Instruction had previously given their opinions that women could not vote in the county superintendent's race. A test case brought up from Fayette county with a view to settling the question before the primaries, was thrown out by the Court of Appeals on the ground that it had no jurisdiction in questions concerning the primary law. This left the question settled in favor of the women in Fayette county alone, the women of the other 119 counties being in doubt. Many of the county clerks were not in doubt as to their interpretation of the law, and refused absolutely to provide the special ballot for the women voters.

Favorable Decision Obtained.

A mandamus suit was brought to compel the clerk of Anderson to supply separate ballots for the regular election, and it was on this suit that the Court of Appeals finally settled the whole question in favor of the women. They may now vote in every school election except that of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, from which they are debarred by the constitution.

Women voted in the elections for school board members and trustees in 1912. Under new school laws for cities of the first and second class, banishing the party emblem from the school ticket, non-partisan school boards were elected in Louisville, Lexington, Covington, Newport and Paducah, the women organizing and working for tickets endorsed by civic organizations. School boards of much greater fitness than formerly were elected, on several of which women are serving. The higher type school board means better administration of the schools.

A Better School System.

It must be acknowledged that with less than a year and a half's use, with the right of women to vote in the most important elections disputed until a few weeks before the last election, the granting of the school suffrage to the women of Kentucky who are "able to read and write," has been of distinct advantage, as it was predicted by the women it would be, to the school system. In the future, with their right to this ballot at last settled, the school vote will undoubtedly be much more widely used by Kentucky women than it has so far been.

DISINFECT!

When the doctor tells you to disinfect after the recovery or death of a member of your household, do exactly as he tells you. He knows what is best, and you don't. For instance, you may believe that burning a little sulphur in the room will destroy the germs; as a matter of fact, it will probably not even kill the bedbugs. Formaldehyde is by far the best disinfectant for most purposes. But formaldehyde gas does not penetrate. Germs lodged in mattresses, feather beds, heavy bed clothing, books, carpets, wall paper, and similar things are not in the least affected. Everything in the room should be opened up as much as possible. Heavy blankets and similar things should be boiled for an hour. Especially after consumption, bedding, mattresses and upholstered furniture ought to be burned. After

WHAT EQUAL RIGHTS ASS'N HAS DONE

A report of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association says:

In 1868 the Kentucky Equal Rights Association was organized to advance the industrial, legal and educational rights of women, and to secure suffrage to them by appropriate state and national legislation.

We found on the statute books a law that permitted a husband to collect his wife's wages.

We found Kentucky the only state that did not permit a married woman to make a will.

Miss Laura Clay, Corresponding Secretary of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association and for Twenty-five Years Its President.

We found that marriage gave to the husband all the wife's personal property which could be reduced to possession, and the use of all her real estate, owned at the time or acquired by her after marriage, with power to rent the same for not more than thirty years at a time and receive the rent.

We found that the common law of courtesy and dower prevailed, whereby, on the death of the wife, the husband inherited absolutely all personalty not theretofore reduced to possession, and when there were children, a life interest in all her real estate; while the wife, when there were children, inherited one-third of her husband's personalty and a life interest in one-third of his real estate possessed during marriage.

To this end we shall petition the next General Assembly for the submission of a constitutional amendment giving full suffrage to women.

We appeal to all men and women who love justice to join our association and assist us in obtaining the full measure of our rights, which is "complete equality before the law."

the fumigation, all the woodwork should be carefully washed with hot, soapy water and then wiped off with a cloth wet with some disinfecting solution. Then a room ought to be left unoccupied for a couple of days, if possible, with the windows wide open; for, after all, sunlight and fresh air are the best disinfectants.

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without
